Welcome

Yeats and McKeown Libraries, here to support your studies.

Contact us at either Library Desk, online with LibChat or by email.
For Yeats Library please use: library.sligo@atu.ie
For McKeown Library please use: StAngelasLibrary.sligo@atu.ie

Access our resources 24/7 through the library website. Or drop in to use our Study Spaces, 6 days a week during term time.

Our Shared Website
Yeats and McKeown libraries are now part of the ATU Library service. We are working to integrate our services across all our campuses and to develop shared resources to support your studies. As part of this project, you now access the Yeats and McKeown libraries shared website through the main ATU Library website.

Please go to atu.ie/library and select the 'Sligo' option from the list to access it.

WI-FI ACCESS USING EDUROAM

The Eduroam service provides internet access for all students and staff of Higher Education Institutions. This includes your registered Institute, and other academic institutions.

You need to authenticate your ATU login details with the campus you are registered to, before you can access our online resources.

Key Info

Yeats Library building has three floors or levels called Zones.

APPROPRIATE LIBRARY BEHAVIOUR

ATU Library users are expected to behave in a manner that does not disrupt others and abide by the ATU Sligo Student Code of Conduct.

We request that you consider how other students need to use this shared space. Please do not bring food into the building. Many need the library to be as quiet as possible as it helps them concentrate. If you have group assignments, please book one of our Seminar Rooms.

Library Resources

For more information on our resources and services check out atu.ie/library

LOCATING RESOURCES ONLINE

We have a range of guides about our services and resources. These are available online. You will also find subject guides on the library website. These are designed for each programme and are full of relevant subject resources and information.

EOLAS

EOLAS is the library's internal search engine. It appears as a search box on our homepage. You can search for different resources by keyword, subject, title, author or journal title.

The Advanced EOLAS search allows you expand or refine your query for more specific results.

Other ways to search

The Publication Finder searches for a specific journal title or e-book by title or discipline.

Research@THEA is a digital collection, which includes journal articles, conference reports, theses and dissertations written by staff and students of the ATU, and other existing and former Institutes of Technology.

FINDING BOOKS IN YOUR LIBRARY

You will need the title of a book and the author's name to find it in your library.

Our collection of print books is shelved according to the Dewey Decimal Classification System. Each book has a class number label on its spine and will be shelved in numerical order in subject groups. For example, Art books are shelved together in the 700s section. Signage on each block of shelves shows the numbers it holds. Search Eolas or the Print Catalogue at atu.ie/library to find the exact class number for each book and your subject area.

Students who need core texts in electronic formats should contact the Access Office. They will help you to access the NCBI's digital library to support your studying.

Library Services

BORROWING BOOKS

The number of books that you can borrow depends on whether you are an undergraduate student or a postgraduate student.

The length of time that you can keep the books for depends on what you are borrowing. Most books can be borrowed for a two-week period. Staff and postgraduate students may borrow books for a longer period. For more information please see our website for details.

In McKeown Library you may borrow books at the Library Desk.

In Yeats Library you may borrow books at the Library Desk or the QuickCheck self-service machine.

STUDY SPACES AND SEMINAR ROOMS

Both Yeats and McKeown Libraries have single-person Study Spaces and Seminar Rooms. Study Spaces are available on a first-come, first-served basis.

Seminar Rooms must be booked in advance through our website.
